The mission of Trinity United Methodist Church of Port Townsend is to be a welcoming ministry; to nurture spiritual development, fellowship and outreach.

Couple Ties the Knot During Service

By Jennifer Jackson
 Courtesy of Peninsula Daily News

The bride wore white. The groom was nervous.

It was a traditional church wedding, except for two things: everyone on both sides of the aisle were friends of the bride and the groom. And almost none of the guests had a clue that a wedding was going to happen.

On Sunday, January 8, Fred Johnson and Trish Pint were united in holy matrimony at Trinity United Methodist Church --- during the morning service. The surprise wedding was the ultimate response to the frequently-asked question, "When are you two going to get married?"

The pop-up ceremony also provided the essence of what they wanted -- to be surrounded by friends when they exchanged vows -- without the frills superfluous to a mature couple. Johnson, who plays bass fiddle in the Dukes of Dabob, taught band and orchestra in Port Townsend schools from 1958 to 1983. Pint is a long-time Port Townsend resident. They met at church several years ago and began going out together, including sitting together on Sundays and ringing the handbells to signal the start of the service.

They turned away speculation on their relationship, saying they were "just friends," but after a while, the questions became more pointed. Before the January 8th service, Mary Weeding, a parishioner and church musician, commented to Pint that her outfit was nice enough to get married in. "She replied 'Yes, it is', Weeding said.

The only other clue was the listing in the Sunday bulletin of "A Special Event" before the closing hymn. At that point, the minister, Wendell Ankeny, stood in front and made a strange announcement -- a young couple had come by the church, he said, and requested that he marry them during the service. While the congregation was trying to digest that, Johnson and Scott Rosekrans, both leaders in the church, walked up to the front. But it was not until Pint entered with her maid of honor, Lillian Tiller, and stood beside Johnson that the congregation caught on. "Most people had no idea it was going to happen," Ankeny said. Two people sitting near the front were in on the secret -- Bob and Liz Moss of Sequim who are long-time friends of the bride.

The music director and organist, Terry Reitz, was also forewarned, breaking into a bridal march for Pint's entrance. Then, facing each other and joining both their hands, Johnson and Pint repeated the time-honored vows: for richer, for poorer, for better, for worse, in sickness and in health, until death do us part. After they exchanged rings, Ankeny declared them husband and wife and Johnson kissed the bride. The new couple were presented to the congregation and Reitz played "Let Me Call You Sweetheart" as they walked down the aisle, accepting congratulations.

Coffee hour doubled as the reception, with a cake that the bride and groom cut together, the bride feeding a bit to her husband by hand. The honeymoon lasted two days -- the groom had to be back in town Tuesday afternoon to play at Seaport Landing with his five-piece instrumental group, Nostalgia.

Johnson belongs to several ensembles and maintains a busy schedule of gigs. In the fall of 2001, he was recruited by the local school district to substitute-teach for three weeks until a band teacher could be found. He ended up staying the entire school year, directing bands at the high school, middle school and upper elementary.

The cost of the wedding: $81 for the cake.

Pastor's Log February 2012

We are well into our new year and some of our resolutions are still unbroken. I'm not sure why we make them each New Year. Mine are always the same; lose weight, get more exercise, more prayer time and meditation. And then I get busy and forget what I resolved.

This is also the time of year we take inventory at the church. We report to the Annual Conference how many joined, how many died, resigned, and were baptized. We received 12 new members, two "un-joined", and there was the passing of two of our saints, Jean Stanks and Harry Takata.

It's also the time when new officers are elected and a new budget is adopted. We look into our crystal ball, scratch our heads and then guess what our income and expenses will be. Again this year it is a Faith Budget. We have faith that we will meet and exceed our expenses and will be able to be in ministry and mission in the church, community and world. I have faith that we will.

Our life has been a challenge this year, with surgeries, hospitalization, moving and the death of Laurel's mother just before Christmas. We are glad to say goodbye to 2011 and welcome a new year.

As you read this, Laurel and I will be in Hawaii. You must be thinking, those lucky ducks! Why am I stuck here in Washington in the rain and cold and they are soaking up sunshine? Okay if it makes you feel better, I do feel guilty. A little.

There will be three guest speakers while we are gone, and then on February 12, our District Superintendent Daniel Foster will bring the message.

Blessings and Aloha,
Wendell

Trustees' Report

By Harvey Crow

As Trinity United Methodist Church transitions into the new year, I am happy to greet you all as the new chairperson of the Trustees. The last few years, under the leadership of George Williams and Bill Brock, much has been accomplished and with your help, the Trustees hope to continue the good work.

This winter, the erratic weather and snow has provided little opportunity to address outside issues. We did get a visit from the DASH organization to access our handicap accessibility and received a "pass" (good). Miscellaneous building and varmit issues have been addressed and spring-time building and maintenance issues loom on the horizon. I encourage all members of the congregation to talk to us anytime about your concerns for our grand old church.

Treasurer's Report

By Bill Metzger

Greetings and Happy New Year to you all!

Here we are at the start of a new year, one that will certainly bring change to not only the nation, but to the church as well. I guess you could say that in taking on the roll as Treasurer I am part of that change. What can I say? I didn't ask to do the job, in fact it was the furthest thing from my mind. With the uncertainty in the economy, my mind was fixed on the gallery and how to weather the stormy times ahead. But as you all know, when Wendell asks you to do something it's hard to say no. So when he asked me to fill the position of Treasurer the only answer I could give was yes. I know I have some big shoes to fill and I'll do my best not to disappoint.

Now this portion of the monthly newsletter isn't about me, so with that in mind let me share some of the financial news from the church. It's no secret that there will be changes occurring within the church. Wendell will, unfortunately, be retiring and a new pastor will be joining us, either part, half or full-time. This may seem like a small issue to be talking about but no matter which it will be, it will affect the church's finances. With this uncertainty comes the difficult task for the Finance Committee in creating the yearly budget, knowing that our expenses will rise.

As of December 31st 2011, balances in the accounts are shown:

Operating Checking.....	$ 182
Operating Savings .....	$ 4,304
Restoration.....	$10,276
Designated Funds.....	$36,459
Designated Savings.....	$ 1,021

I'm not very good at asking anyone for money, knowing the difficult financial times that face each and every one of us, but I humbly come to you and pray that you'll consider sending in a yearly financial pledge and in doing so it will better equip us in putting together a budget that we can strive to live within. Every amount, no matter how small, will certainly be extremely helpful and appreciated.

May God bless each and every one of you and thank you for your continued financial support.

An Important Person in My Life

By Beth Mackey

Going to college seemed remote for a girl from a large family in Indiana in 1957. Desire and curiosity compelled me toward my dream.

I wrote a letter of inquiry to the women's junior college in South Dakota where my mother attended boarding school for high school and one year of college before she suddenly was thrust into the role of wife and stepmother of 7 children, but that is another story—and—a big one.

It was an outside chance but the Dean, Sister Anna Maire, was a resourceful type, a journalist with a broad perspective, especially for a nun in the 50's. Sister Anna Marie didn't really know my mother but she saw some potential in me based on my high school records and accomplishments as a student leader. She also found the out-of-state status attractive for the school roster.

A man in the small town of Aberdeen, SD provided a full tuition scholarship—$100 per quarter—to a selected student renewable each successful year of attendance at this small junior college on the plains. The man remained anonymous, and still is, but his generous gift made the difference for me at just the right time.

To this day, I have never finished the joys of being educated but did earn a BS and MS degree at Indiana University and a Specialist Degree at University of Minnesota.

I served for 36 years as a teacher and elementary school principal. I am grateful for the "break" my benefactor gave me and for the privilege I have had to be closely involved at all levels within the field of education. I would like to believe that, like Sister Anna Marie and my generous mentor in South Dakota all those years ago, I have made a significant difference in children's lives over the years. That is my prayer.

If you have a special person who was a great influence in your life, we'd love to hear your story.

Love from the Arctic Circle

By Katie Campbell

Since returning to Kivalina, I have seen the temperatures drop to -51 (without wind chill)! I have walked outside to see a new dusting of snow on top of our already very high drifts. I flew into Kivalina as the sun was setting and got to see how truly "iced in" we are. But most importantly, I was welcomed back and told "happy new year" by many members of the community and by the students at McQueen School.

Each year at Christmas time when teachers are traveling "home", it is a gamble for the students and the rest of the staff if those teachers will be returning to Alaska or quietly quitting their jobs. I am happy to report that this year, all of our teachers returned. I came back with quite the cold that I am just now getting out of my system.

I have decided to apply to several other places for next year (Washington and Alaska) just in case I am not happy with staying in Kivalina for one more year. No final decision has been made, but your prayers are welcomed with open arms.

Sending all my love from the Arctic,
Katie

By Dan Purnell

The Copy Cats

Come and enjoy an evening of lively renditions of classic pop songs of the '50s and '60s performed by Trinity's own "Newlywed" Fred Johnson on String Bass with The Copy Cats. Fred is accompanied by two other performers, Dick Atkins on Guitar and Al Thompson, playing Baritone Sax.

As most of us know, Fred is very active in the Port Townsend music arena. In addition to the Copy Cats, he also performs with the Dukes of Dabob and Nostalgia. Each of the groups perform in various venues from the Valley Tavern to the Masonic Lodge, Kai Tai and Dream City Café. In addition, the Copy Cats do a musical tour of the Port Townsend area retirement centers to provide musical performances for those who can't get out to other locations.

All of the Copy Cats performers come from a career in education. Dick Atkins, on guitar and lead vocal, performed with The Reflections for twenty years, as well as The Professionals. Atkins taught Middle School and Junior high in Port Townsend for 29 years. Al Thompson, high tenor, also performs on the Baritone and Alto saxophone. Thompson's musical career included school band director in Milwaukee, WI as well as school counseling. Besides performing with the Copy Cats he plays alto sax with the Big Band Olympic Express. He also enjoys singing high tenor with the Wild Rose Chorale. Johnson has a booming bass voice and also plays string bass. He directed High School Orchestra and Band at Port Townsend High School and has played in big bands for many years in Seattle and surrounding areas.

If "Sha Boom, Sha Boom" and "Rock Around the Clock" makes you want to get up and sing, you won't want to miss this performance! This will be a wild ride down Memory Lane where you can join in on some of your favorite songs or just sit back and remember the "Good ol' Times!"

Doors open at 6:30 PM, Trinity United Methodist Church, 609 Taylor Street, across from the Community Center, Uptown – admission is by $10 donation (children admitted free) to benefit local Port Townsend agencies and Trinity's restoration program. Refreshments will be served following the performance. Call (360) 774-1644 for further information.

REST IN PEACE

God bless Laurel and Wendell Ankeny on the passing of Laurel's Mother, Betty Liukkonen, on December 23, 2011. Betty and Ken were frequent visitors to Trinity with their own name tags. One Sunday morning Wendell was welcoming visitors and he asked Betty who she was. She replied, "I am your Mother-in Law". Very funny.

Betty was a vibrant woman who accomplished a lifetime of giving and loving of family and friends.

Book Review

By Molly Jacobson

The Secrets of People Who Never Get Sick by Gene Stone tells the stories of twenty-five people who each possess a different secret of excellent health, a little new twist among the thousands of health books. Stone is a writer and journalist who, in his interest in the prevention of illness as much as the curing of it, has undergone dozens of treatments himself. He generally tried everything experts recommended and submitted to various experiments. Yet he still got sick usually twice a year. So he decided to find people who didn't get sick and find out why.

As one doctor says, "It's a delightful dance through science". Andrew Weil, M.D., reports: "It's offbeat, informative, and fun". There are food secrets, everything from why to eat garlic to becoming a vegan. There are exercise and environmental secrets (living in one of five 'blue zones'). Emotional secrets have to do with staying in touch with friends and family and cultivating spirituality. Wisdom that goes back through generations includes tips about napping, taking cold showers, and that chicken soup really works. There is a recipe for soup and George Burns' eat less menu.

Not that all the secrets are worthwhile, some are downright wrong and others simply strange! What they share is that they work for the people in this book, sometimes much better than professional medical advice. One woman doesn't mind eating vegetables straight from the garden after just a quick rinse, while another thinks that's fine as long as the germs come from a dirty tomato and not from people infected with a cold.

My father, a New Englander who lived to 83, always followed up his hot shower with a cold one. I like that too, in remembrance of him and some of his other good health habits. Whatever works, and the secret is making it a part of your daily life!

Available at both libraries and on-line.

Heifer Gifts

By Wendi Metzger

Once again we have raised over $5000 in donations for the Heifer Project. Many thanks to the generous and giving hearts of our congregation! The Heifer Project helps families faced with an unending cycle of poverty and despair. Your gift carries promise of a brighter future through self reliance, improved health care, nourishment and educational opportunities. In addition, your giggly livestock will be passed on to other families for generations to come. The passing of the gift will continue to create a brighter future and better tomorrow for all humanity.

Thanks you and blessings to all in 2012.

Music Notes

By Terry Reitz

It has been a productive and enjoyable fall/winter for the Trinity Music Department.

CHANCEL CHOIR: The choir has succeeded in raising the bar yet again, beginning this fall experimenting with antiphonal singing, delighting us with counterpoint and topping it all with gospel. The women's choir and the men's choir +2 contributed to beautiful Advent and Christmas programs, as did our soloists who deserve very special kudos!

Planning is nearing completion for the rest of the choral year centering on a powerful Easter program. The chorus is preparing Purcell's "Trumpet Tune", some rockin' gospel and more special quartets and trios. Easter will offer both organs, piano, bell choir and chorus.

We are grateful for the new and returning voices the Spirit has guided to our jolly group—and encourage any "secret singers" to give choir a try. Reading music, perfect pitch and no performance anxiety are not requirements—we rehearse, we train, we pray and we laugh.

BELL CHOIR: Trinity has a collection of extraordinary bells and our players rang in Christmas with gusto. We are beginning to prepare for Lent and Easter. Rehearsals are every other Sunday from 11:30—12:00, no previous experience necessary, white gloves are provided.

CHILDREN'S BELL CHOIR: Since the tall people are having so much fun and learning how well they can make music, I thought it would be fun to share the joy with our children (4 and older). Parents, if you will contact Terry with names, ages and phone numbers, we can begin to schedule some play time.

PIPE ORGANS & PIANO: I will continue introducing Preludes by Italian 16th and 17th C. composers until Lent (with the occasional Bach) to keep the darkest part of the year just a little lighter and sunnier and also to introduce your ears to some of our unusual and unfamiliar ranks and rank combinations. Mary Weeding continues to do a brilliant job accompanying the singers and keeping me on track during the hymns and we're all gratefully looking forward to hearing more of her work. Stay tuned (pun intended) for more organ/organ and piano/organ duets and remember that your suggestions are welcome and inspirations.

When our "Son of Silbermann" is finally voiced and world ready, stand by for concerts for both children and adults. I had way too much fun with Peter and Trinity's own big, bad wolf to let that idea rest for long.

The search for additional keyboardists, percussionists, wind, string players and vocalists continues. Please feel free to volunteer or to make suggestions.

I have told Wendell more than once that my goal as music director is to have the whole congregation come up front for special music. With the love and support of this congregation it could happen. Let's "pull out all the stops!"
